PROJECTS

HireADriver | Core Java, JDBC, MySQL

- The Hire a Driver project is a Java-based application developed to simplify the process of booking and managing drivers for personal or commercial travel needs.
 - The system allows users to register, search for available drivers, view driver details, and hire drivers based on availability and location.
 - The application includes features such as user authentication, driver management, booking management, and payment or fare tracking.
 - An admin module is used to manage drivers, users, and booking records efficiently.
- The project is developed using core Java concepts such as OOPs, collections, exception handling, JDBC, and database connectivity for storing user and booking information.

Speed Enhancement: 64-bit Vedic Multiplier

- We design and analyze a Vedic multiplier that incorporates Brent-Kung adder technique.
 - The Urdhva-Tiryakbhyam algorithm is employed to break down the input operands into smaller sub-blocks.

Smart Shopping Cart with RFID Billing System

- Developed an automated billing system using RFID and Arduino.
- Integrated real-time price calculation and LCD display for seamless checkout.
